Product data sheet

As the name suggests, this linen print is an homage to the journey to Tunisia taken by the painter Paul Klee. Oases, palm trees, huts and dromedaries make up a dream-like world of images. This decorative fabric depicts the North African landscape playing with colours in the unique light of the Near East. Each colourway replicates the atmosphere during different times of the day - from the briskness of the sunrise in the morning, to the fiery midday sun, right through to the ambient twilight of the evening.
